More than 9,000 spectators were in Bercy today for the Finals of the IFSC World Climbing Championships 2012.

Mélanie Sandoz, the new Boulder World Champion 2012
« If someone has told me one month ago that I would be World Champion, I would not have believed it! It is totally magic to be at the top in France, especially in Bercy! » … said the French women Mélanie Sandoz, who still can not really realize what she has achieved. Only her main rival Anna Stohr, World Champion 2011, could have won the Final. But she fell and ended at the third place behind the Russian athlete Olga Iakovleva.

Kim Jain ahead of the overall ranking
The Korean athlete Kim Jain finished at the first place. The native Cécile Avezou took the second place with a big ovation from the public. Kingler Petra, the Swiss athlete, ranked third.
Victory of Urko Carmona Barandiaran in Paraclimbing

« It is a great victory to win the title in lead. Last year in Arco, I won in speed. I trained very hard this season, and this medal gives me the strength to stay at the top! »
